Summary: If you had a chance to live in a game would you take it knowing you might give up the life you previously had? What would you do if you had the chance to become the hero you always wanted but at the cost greater then you ever thought possible? Well these are questions that might destroy a single individual. Good thing Jaune has friends and pals to help him through. (Game fic-ish)

New Game plus

**Welcome to Knights of Remnant! The most popular MMORPG in the world with 20million copies sold and counting! As a knight of Remnant you are task with protecting the kingdoms from any harm that may befall it. Enjoy your stay as you carve a legend into this epic tale!****

"Yeah, yeah I heard it all before." Jaune said to himself while looking at the loading screen on his computer waiting for his game to load.

In the six months the game KOR( Knights of Remnant) has been release it has cause widespread fame for its ingenious storytelling and stunning visuals. A brief synopsis of the game is that you a knight, is tasked with protecting one of the four kingdoms of Remnant from invading creatures called Grimm that are trying to destroy the peace that humanity has ascertained. Your main mission is to make sure not only your kingdom is safe but also the lives of the NPC in it our happy.

'_Finally it finished loading!' _Jaune though to himself as his character avatar appeared on screen.

His avatar wore golden armor and instead of having a helmet on he decided to show case the face he constructed when making his character which had golden hair standing up and crimson red eyes. Taking a second to look at his inventory he decided to find a item shop to which he could stock on health potions before the mission he planned to embark on.

As he walked to the nearby town Jaune couldn't help but here the whispers and see looks of other Players as he strolled through town.

"_It's him the yellow death!"_

"_The great Crocea Mors"_

"_I heard that he one time rode a death stalker into battle against a dozen Beowolves."_

"_I heard that he is the only one to ever max out the NPC's happiness in the town Robuga which is known for there hatred for any thing related to one of the four kingdoms"_

The gossip went on and on.

Jaune couldn't help but let out a small grin in real life at the stories people said about him. He did in fact achieve many of those feats that the rumors talked about but that because he really enjoyed the game. He wasn't one of those players who dump all there life into the game(he had school, family, and friends to make sure he couldn't) nor was he one of those players who was a perfectionist and try to be the best at the game in anyway. No he just really enjoyed it. And thanks to that enjoyment he was able to become one of the best players in it.

â€|

After walking around town looking for an item shop he finally stumbled onto one. And after a few minutes of buying items. A short hooded figure approach him from behind.

"Hello, is your name Crocea Mors?" The hooded figure said to which cause Jaune to cancel his shopping and turned around to see who was talking to him. To see it was another player who had the beginner Mages start-up armor along with a hood that cover their head.

"Yes I am" Jaune said over his headset.

"I see. Well nice to meet you" the Mage used a bowing emote. "My name is Dust I'm new here. I was told by a friend that if I wanted to learn how to play the game the right way I should ask a veteran player and since I heard the rumors of the legendary yellow death in town I thought why not ask an see if he will take me under his wing." The Mage said in a humble voice.

Jaune message his chin pondering about teaching the young Mage some of his skills. True the tutorial of the game is really vague as to make Players find out everything for themselves but he also wanted to beat some quest.

Decisions, decision.

After a few seconds Jaune decided to help the girl as he can always do the quest another day and took her towards a small Grimm infested forest on the outskirts of the town.

_**A few minutes later...**_

"So I been wondering this for awhile" Dust ask following Jaune towards the forest. "But what is your class?"

"I'm a royal knight class, the class that start off with basic stats all across the board. Unlike the Mage class who start of with high AURA and INTELLIGENCE."

"I see. By the way you think you can teach me the stats mechanics? The game didn't really give a good description of what they do." Dust asked questionably saying the last part in a low tone voice as to hide her embarrassment of not understanding the game.

Jaune let out a chuckle at this as it reminded him of his first play through when he was still fairly new.

Ahhh, how it is to be a noob and amazed.

"Hey! Don't laugh!" Dust whined through her headset which cause Jaune to laugh a little longer.

"Sorry it just reminded me of my first play through. I guess I should explain from the beginning starting off with stats loadout know as the S.P.E.I.A.A.L". (Pronounced special) "pull up your stats menu which is at the bottom left of the screen." Which Dust did to show her stats to herself.

**Name: Dust**

**Class: Mage Knight**

"As you can see your Stat system probably have a lot of things you might not understand so I'll tell you what they all mean. First off your **HP**(health points) is your life bar if that hits zero it's an automatic game over and you will restart at the graveyard. **MP**(magic points) is you elemental points. They let you cast spells and use special abilities that your class have, as a Mage this is what you would mainly use. **AP**(action points) are points you use when you preform heavy attacks, guard with a weapon, sprint and so on."

"Wow you're very knowledgeable. Are you sure you're not one of those essential NPC's?"Dust ask in a joking manner with a faint hint of seriousness.

"No I'm actually used to teaching new comers about the game. After all strangers are friends you haven't met yet." Jaune said smiling at his screen. Completely missing the sarcasm of her words.

"I see... Please continue."

"Sure, but let's continue walking"

After picking up there steps again Jaune went to pick up where he left off on his explanation of the game.

"Now moving own to the S.P.E.I.A.A.L stats. These is the nitty and gritty core mechanic of the game. There are seven different stats to upgrade. STRENGTH, PERCEPTION, ENDURANCE, INTELLIGENCE, AURA, AGILITY, and LUCK. **STRENGTH**increase the attack damage you do but increase inventory weight. **PERCEPTION**increase your awareness and your accuracy. **ENDURANCE**raise you defense making attack that hit you less effective plus increase your healing rate. **INTELLIGENCE**increase your exp. points as well as let you use certain items to its full potential. **AURA**increase your magic points and at the same time give you more option to different magical spells. **AGILITY**increase your AP and also make you harder to hit. **LUCK**is a random stats that increase the chances of something good happening to you. Also from now on ever time you level up you get four points in which you can put into anyone of these stats. And that should be enough information for now." Jaune said letting out a deep huff from talking to long

"I seeâ€¦| So, what's your stats like?" Dust ask causing Jaune to look at his stats screen.

**Name: Crocea Mors****

**Class: Royal Knight****

**Level: Lv 50****

**HP: 550/550****

"Nothing major. The game is made so that everyone can be leveled against one another. For instance if you come against an opponent with high STRENGTH a person with high AGILITY can easily match them. Same with a high AURA user against a person with high PERCEPTION. The game has many ways to face different opponents Grimm and other players. Just find a play style you enjoy. Now, let's find a place to train." Jaune said as they approached the opening of the forest.

After a few hours of talking and grinding in the forest against Beowolves and Ursa. Jaune decided it was time to wrap it up and call it a night seeing that it was pitch black outside from the window of his bedroom.

"Alright I think that's it for today. I have school in the morning plus my eyes are getting tired from staring at the screen." Jaune said while yawning in his headset

"I see, thank you so much for the help. Here's a reward I picked up before I met you" Dust said opening up her inventory and requesting to give Jaune an item which he accepted outright.

'_What is it?' _Jaune thought to himself as he look at the item in his inventory that Dust gave him. As he scroll over with his mouse to look at the picture of the item which look like an envelope he read the description which said:

**A special item in which only a selected few are able to get. This item will enriched your gaming experience.****

' _hmm, A special item that only a selected few can get?... Does, Does that mean that she's a game developer!?' _Jaune thought to himself remembering the rumors of the game developers going out and recruiting experience players to test out some of the new software such as DLC and new weapon mods.

"Wait, Dust, are you a-" before Jaune could finished speaking the rest of his sentence through the headset Dust was already out of site.

'_Maybe she logged off?' _Jaune thought scratching his head in confusion.

After a few seconds of thinking Jaune went to his inventory to look at the item he got from Dust. With nothing else to do and the tiredness in his eyes weighting heavier by the second he decided to open the item before he goes to sleep.

But the instant he open the message and read the description all tiredness from his body disappeared.

**Note: By opening this mail you are accepting all rights to play the mode: Survival Mode. In this mode you will play the game in a all new way in which all your actions will vastly effect the story. Do you accept?****

**Yes****

**No****

â€|_Survival mode!, Effect the story!_

Jaune couldn't hold back his excitement as he look at the message on his screen re-reading it over and over again. The bags on his eyes were replaced by wonder and excitement. As he move his mouse over the yes option, eagerly awaiting what the word _survival mode _would entail. Only one thing came to mind.

'_Bye, bye social life, hello hours of non-stop fun!' _he thought as he click down on his mouse.

As soon as he clicked on the yes option the screen started to flash bright until the light took control and turn it full on white. Jaune who was mesmerized at the bright light on the computer screen could only watch as the light got brighter and brighter to the point it engulfed everything he can see in his view in a white light, untilâ€|.

â€|

â€|..

â€|..

"Hey Dad! Yang! He's moving I think he's getting up" a mysterious voice said in the distance follow by footsteps that sound like they were moving away.

'_Huh? Who's that?'_

'_Ouch my aching head...Wait why does my head hurt?...wait, What time is it?'_

Jaune woke in a frenzy throwing the covers off of him looking for his alarm clock hoping that he did not miss his alarm for school. But the moment he looked around his surroundings all the panicked suddenly went nil as he saw nothing recognizable in the room.

"Where am I?" Jaune said as he tried his hardest not to panic. Thinking if he thought it through something might come to mind.

Sadly nothing came to mind. Until a blue HUD looking screen appeared before him.

**Welcome to Remnant Jaune Arc, You have been selected to become a player of this world. If you would ever like to log out of this world you must first finish your objective here which is to beat Survival Mode. Note: telling people of your ability or your from another world will automatically invoke a GAME OVER. You can also open your menu bar by saying or thinking the word 'open menu'. Enjoy your time here as you will most likely be here for awhile.****

After a minute has passed the HUD disappeared. Unfortunately it took longer for Jaune to even process a thought as he slumped down on the bed. That was until-

"I see you're finally up" a man at the the door said which cause Jaune to snap out of his daze state to look at him. "We were worried when we saw you outside like that in the middle of the night. The name is Taiyang, Taiyang Xao Long. But you can just call me Tai."

The man then just approach Jaune as he just stared on to him. And reach out his hand to help him out of bed.

"And you are?" Tai asked.

In which Jaune still gazed at everything around him said:

"Very confused"

>AN: Well that's the first chapter. If you have any questions if I left anything to unclear let me know so I can change it later. I wanted to do a gamer fic for awhile but I wanted to make it in a way were Jaune is not OP but is as skilled as many other fighters in RWBY. As you can tell my gamer fic is a bit different but hey, that what's going to make it more fun. I plan to make more chapters of this at my leisure but if lots of people like it I will try to do a chapter at my earliest convenience. Until then!

**P.S. Jaune avatar character model is Gilgamesh from fate stay night.****
